This week we celebrate Harvest Days at the Farmers Market Annex, and across the street at the Minneapolis Farmers Market. It's a time to celebrate the fall harvest, and load up on all that fantastic fresh local produce while it's all still coming in strong and will continue coming till we have our first hard frost of the year. Tomatoes, potatoes, cucumbers, zucchini, squash, onions, peppers of all kinds, radishes, kale and a whole mess of other stuff social media guy didn't think of off the top of his head. Oh, and don't forget those beautiful farmers market bouquets too!

What else is going on this weekend? We'll have Miles Warren and his band rocking the market once again. Ertz Family Farm will be back with pumpkins fresh from the pumpkin patch. We'll have giveaways, , and more. Across the street you can find fall merchandise, Kid's Fall Harvest Bingo Scavenger Hunt, a hay ride, photo booth, pancake social and more!

When you visit the Annex, please remember:

- No dogs
- No smoking
- Wash/sanitize your hands regularly
- Be respectful of others
- Many vendors accept plastic, all take cash!

The Unleashed Hounds and Hops Beer Garden is open Sat & Sun from 10am-1pm.

We are a family friendly market and welcome everyone to visit! See what makes us a Next Generation Farmers Market!

Going Strong till October 31st

Yes, the farmers market is open though October 31 this season! From local produce to clothing to arts and crafts to delicious fresh made food, to live music, the Annex will be going strong, every Saturday and Sunday, 7:00 am to 1:00 pm. We get there's a lot going on in life on weekends in the fall: kids sports, school stuff, watching the Vikings Super Bowl ru... the Vikings playing games and trying their best! But set the alarm a little early and swing by the market before the day gets busy. Trust us, you won't regret it!

Fall Fashion

As the seasons change, so do the fashion trends. Crop tops and sundresses are out and in are the sweaters and coats and scarves. Our clothing vendors have all shifted into their fall and winter fashion lines. So take some time this week to clean out the bedroom closet, then reload it with farmers market fashion finds!

And if you are looking for a deal as you're reloading your closet, Jackie's is having a two for one sale on their fall fashion all of October! Be sure to check them out for some great deals on casual and athletic wear.

It's not too late to come this season still too! Come for a weekend, give it a try, and meet all the other small business owners here. ## Dahlia Season

Along with local produce, local flowers are going strong too. There is no more popular summer and fall flower than the dahlia. Hardy, versatile, and available in a kaleidoscope of colors. So, regardless if you are building a wedding bouquet or just want to bring home something for you, your first stop inside Market Flowers should be the dahlia cart!

Beyond dahlias, all our carnations, pom poms, and cremones have shifted into fall colors. Burgundy, bronze, gold and orange are always a winner every fall. Don't worry, there is plenty of whites, blushes and peaches in stock still too. Don't forget to accent those fall bouquets with some of our fresh or dried grasses. Broom corn, millet, and the always popular pampas grass are all in the coolers now!

Holiday Decor this November

As perfect as the weather has been so far this fall, it's eventually going to take that turn, and when it does, that means the holiday season is right around the corner. The Annex Tree Lot will be back again this November and December. We will have three pavilions filled with fresh cut Christmas trees, bulk boughs, branches, and accents, and of course, our famous fresh made patio pots, wreaths, garlands, door swags and more! We open inside the warehouse the first weekend of November and the outdoor lot opens the weekend before Thanksgiving and runs right up to Christmas Eve.
